Sub: Our proposed workshop in Tamilnadu

Dear Sir,

As discussed earlier and keeping in mind the envisaged project and interests of both your company and the German companies, the Indo German Chamber of Commerce (IGCC), Mumbai, proposes to organize a two day workshop in Tamilnadu (Chennai /Pondicherry/ Cuddalore) on "German technologies for Centralised Bio-Medical Waste Management Systems/Facilities" by second week of December, 2001 (preferably 11th & 12th Dec.).

The objective of the proposed workshop would be two folds: i) to assist German companies transfer their expertise and technology for the envisaged project of establishing hospital solid waste management facility at Cuddalore district. ii) to enable all stakeholders and decision makers in India, such as the TNPCB, MoEF etc. an opportunity to understand the various state-of-art-technology available for your proposed project in various districts of Tamil Nadu and assist them in their decision making for selection of an appropriate technology to dispose healthcare wastes by centralized systems/facilities or provide financial assistance etc.

I, hereby, request eGreen System Private Limited to assist IGCC in organizing the above proposed event in Tamilnadu. Your company should invite the right stakeholders (around 20-30 persons) and ensure that the workshop is successful. If there are many interested participants, a participation fee of Rs. 2000 could be levied for each individual. This fee is to ensure the genuine interest of the participants. IGCC will bear the expenses for organizing the 2 day workshop and work out the program plan after consultations with you and the German companies.

Looking forward to a mutual co-operation.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Ganesh Shankar
(UAM-Indien)
